

Adams Morgan Main Street is comprised of residents, businesses, and other non-profits working together to improve our neighborhood business area in regard to aesthetic appearance, pedestrian and vehicle mobility, better business mix, retention and promotion, as well as cleanliness. Overall goals are to emphasize the neighborhood's multicultural diversity, enhance minority employment, and to provide a safer and more pleasant urban environment for residents, businesses, schools, churches, and non-profits.

Stroll, Shop, Savor Adams Morgan!

The intersection of 18th and Columbia Road is the center of Washington's most vibrant, multicultural neighborhood. Adams Morgan's restaurants, featuring cuisine from Ethiopia and Thailand to Latin America and the Caribbean, not to mention Europe, can be found within a few bustling blocks. The scene, with its array of food, murals, coffee houses, bars, funky shops and live music has an international flavor that attracts people from the Washington metropolitan region, as well as national tourists and overseas visitors.
